Yup...yes, yes. I drank water.

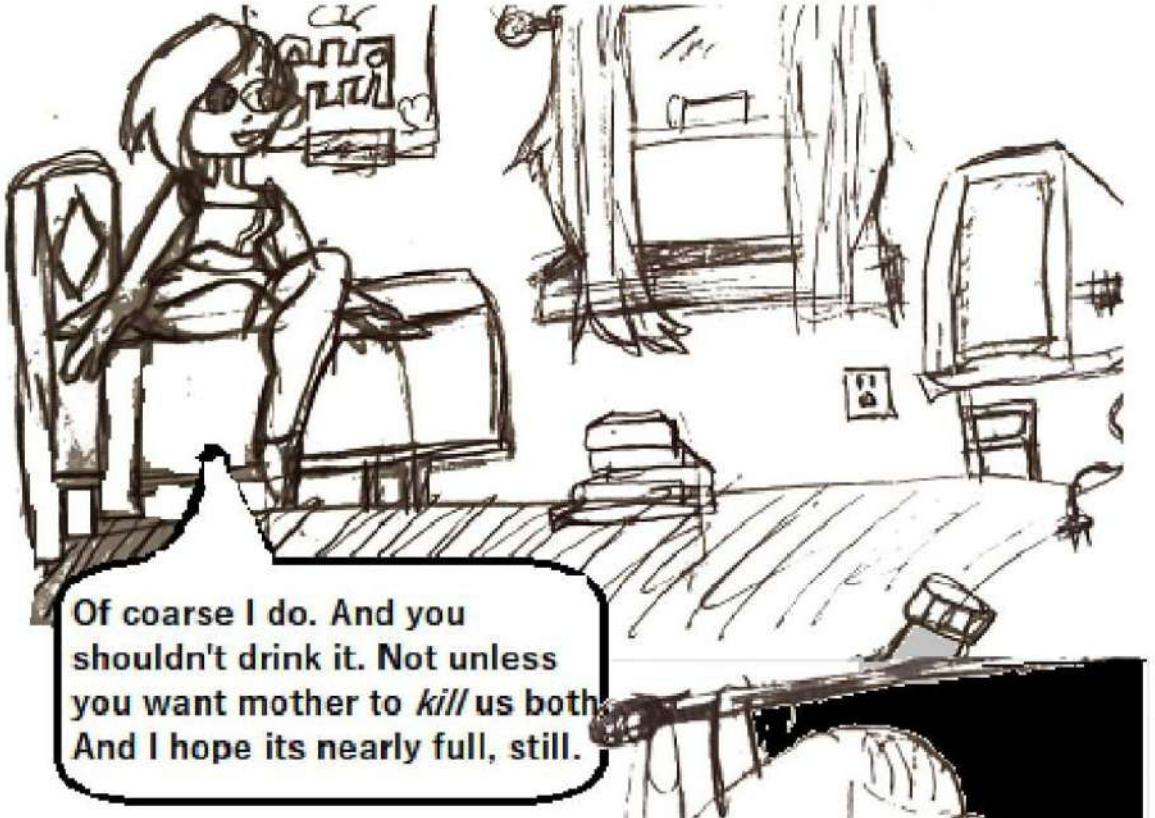
I love you, too... Mami. Goodnight.

I almost was caught, sis. And between you and me...I drank it, a little. Hope you still want the tonic?



Of coarse I do. And you shouldn't drink it. Not unless you want mother to kill us both. And I hope its nearly full, still.

G'night, my lil' brosky. Bye!

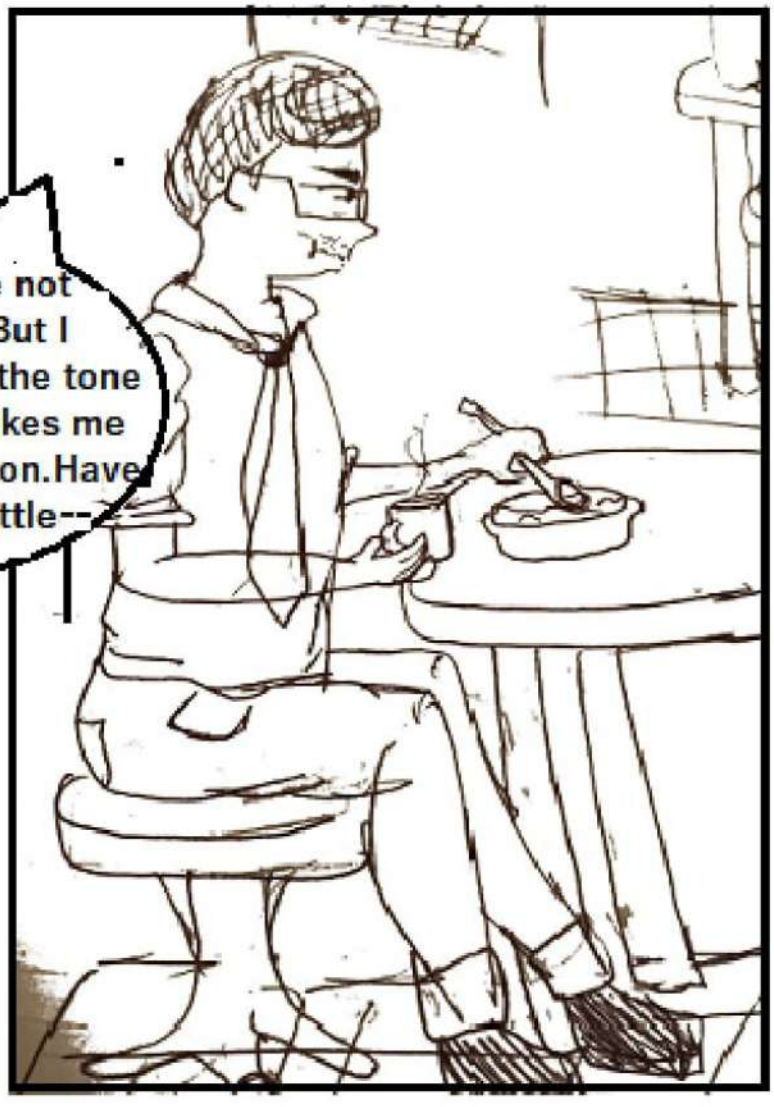
Heh, I am not hiding anything...I'm only a little sleepy. I told you... Is that plate mine? Too bad mom left before I could thank her. I'm a little hungry!



I guess you're not being secretive...But I sense a little fear in the tone of your voice...It makes me think otherwise, son.Have you seen the bottle--

Just sit and eat...I am not angry at you for anything.

I'm just a little concerned because chemical in the soda bottle I left ot last night is missing and it can be very danfgerous if consumed too much. In fact, its toxic. It's a new lab energy drink experiment

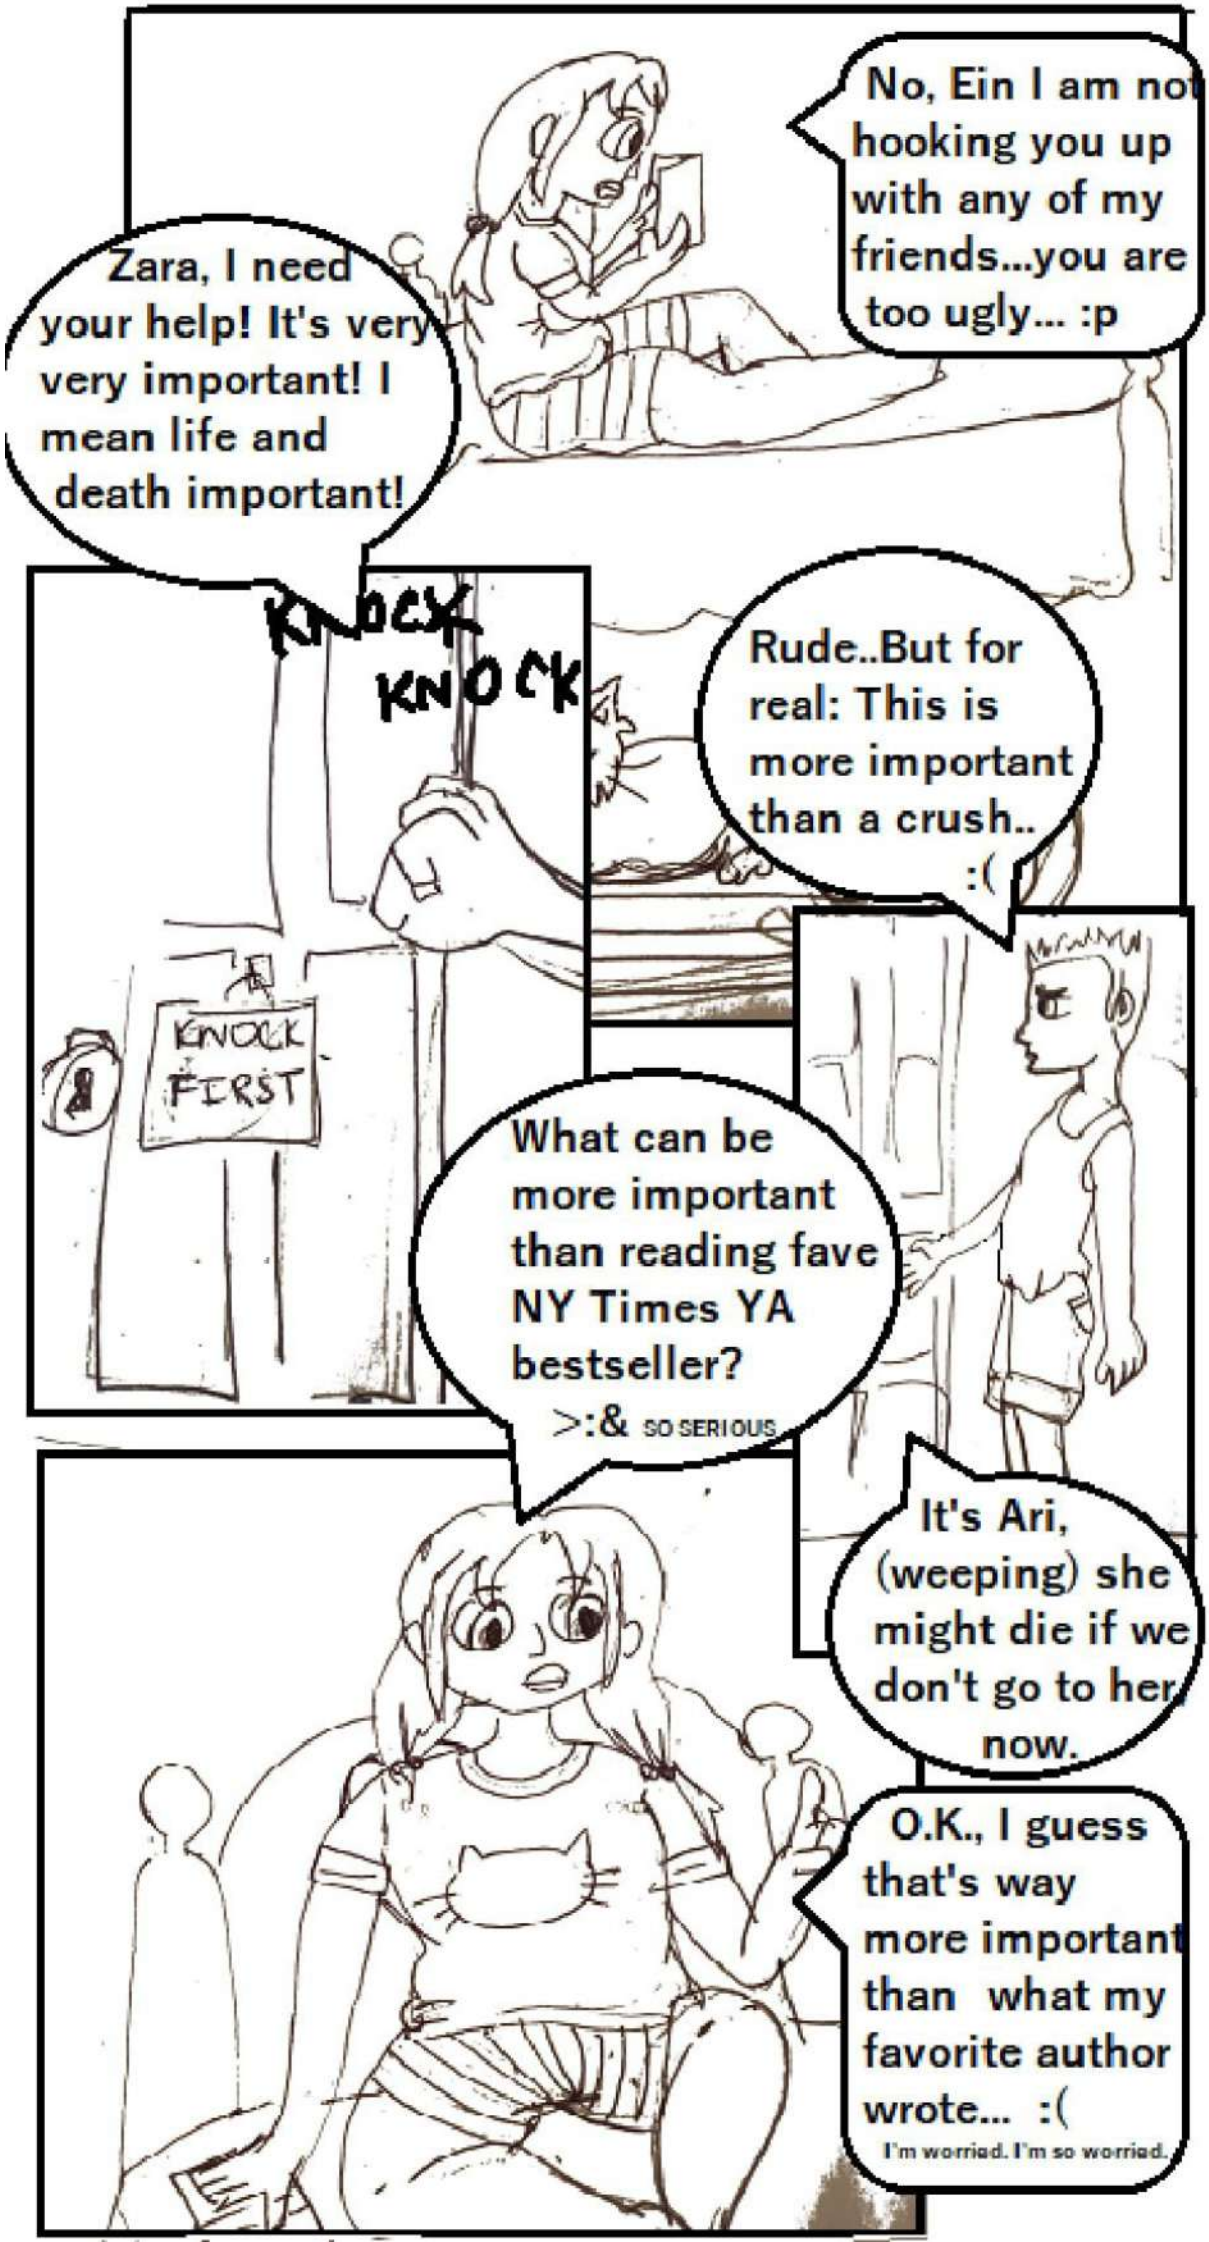
But its good you didn't drink it. Maybe I just threw it away, accidentally. It is very important that no one drinks it. We do not want any of us dead. I will never forgive myself if...
Oh, No! I need to save Ari! I do not want her to die! I have to see if she drank too much! But I can't tell mom or dad..I need to tell some one! Uhm...I can tell Zara! We need to rescue Ari, right, Now!
Ein , where are you going?
I just remembered, I have to do something!



No, Ein I am not hooking you up with any of my friends...you are too ugly... :p

KNOCK KNOCK

Rude..But for real: This is more important than a crush.. :(
What can be more important than reading fave NY Times YA bestseller? >:& SO SERIOUS
It's Ari, (weeping) she might die if we don't go to her now.
O.K., I guess that's way more important than what my favorite author wrote... :(
I'm worriad. I'm so worriad.

So, let me recap... you brought one of Dad's experimental drinks to our sister and it's poison.
Yes...y ahora we have to check up on her.
But, you tried some. And you are still alive. Maybe' it isn't toxic?
Yea, but I only took about two sips.
Mom and dad will kill me! What if I die later on? What if Aria is already dead? What if she tries to haunt me? She'll follow me until I die; she'd ask me 'why she died'... :[

What if dad blames me and he kicks me out of the house! I'll be homeless and all alone! I'll have nowhere to go or sleep? And I'll have nothing to eat besides thrown away food and hunted down roadkill? gasp Or even worse...I'll end up a criminal and end up in prison?!
I'll have to spend the rest of my high school life behind prison bars! No! What if? What if it gets worse? I'll be labeled a "sister killer"? And the judge won't forgive a brown latino for that! I''ll probably be on death row and get the death sentence. And if the judge does forgive...I'll never recover from the guilt! I'll end up commiting more crimes just to feel numb and maybe get caught up in gang life?

What'cha guys doin out, today?
Aria, you're Alive!?!
Why woudn't I Be?
But the drink I gave you was toxic?!
.....
WHAT?!
But, dad said it was. We thought you died!
No, it wasn't!
But, you're alive... you didn't dink it?
No I did drink it. I am still alive because the tonic wasn't poison. Dad only saidthat to teach you not to drink any of his alcohol. I'm okay.

No, as you can see I'm still alive!
Yea, you are alive! you didn't dink it?
I'm not sure if it was poison or not, or if he's warning you about the bad things that can happen if you drink while underage? But... I've decided to stop drinking. I want to do this because I really want to go back to living with you all again. Because I I miss you both so very much!
We miss you too, Sis! Can't wait to see you home again!
THE END.
